FEDERAL GRAND JURY CHARGED TO INQUIRE INTO BEER SCANDAL

K. K. MEETS AT MIDNIGHT TO HEAR 'CLEANUP' REPORT

Activities of Paid Investigators of Dry Law Violations Related at East St. Louis Gathering.

East St. Louis klanmen gathered last night at the Ku Klux Klan temple, 418 Collinsville avenue, to hear the result of the klan campaign to clean up the sale of illicit liquor in East St. Louis.

Klan officials announced today that a total of more than 300 affidavits have been submitted by paid investigators of the klan and affiliated organizations and that Federal warrants will arrive from Danville, Ill., beginning today.

The klan is not the sole organization engaged in the clean-up work, East E. Gibson, secretary of the East St. Louis organization, said today. It is co-operating with a large number of local klan chapters, fraternal organizations and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Investigators Active.

The Ku Klux Klan will take no part in serving the liquor violation warrants when they arrive, but will be ready to prevent witnesses when the cases come up for trial, Gibson said. About 50 persons have been active in making liquor purchases at various places in East St. Louis since last August, and 26 of the number were paid investigators hired by the klan and other organizations co-operating as the East St. Louis law enforcement agency, Gibson added. He estimated the league has spent more than $2,000 in the work.

Last night's klan meeting stressed some tension in East St. Louis law enforcement circles. Police officers were instructed to remain at home through the evening so they could be called in emergency. About 2,500 attended the meeting, according to klan members.

R. F. PETTUS ESTATE TO PAY $39,438 INHERITANCE TAXES

Appraisers Place Valuation of $39,438 on Holdings of Banker Killed in Fall from House.

The heirs of Charles Parsons Pettus, vice president of the American Trust Co., who was killed June 2, last, in a fall from a horse, will have a state inheritance tax of $39,438 to pay, according to a report filed by an appraiser in Probate Court today. The appraiser estimates the Federal estate tax as $12,487.41, which, with other taxes, will make the total tax assessment against the estate $39,438.04. Executors' commissions were set at $1,000.

The appraiser's valuation of the estate was $707,551.25, as compared to $224,152 shown in the inventory filed for probate shortly after Pettus' death. The difference was in 1,497 shares of Cleveland Realty Co. stock, the inventory listing it at par value of $100 a share and the appraiser assessing it a value of $385 a share. Pettus left the estate in trust to his widow, Mrs. Georgina Wright Pettus. On her death, it goes to their five children.

Judge Faris Tells Jurors to Ascertain Whether Bribery of Government Officials to Refrain From Law Enforcement Was Attempted.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON JACK DANIEL CASE

Investigating Body Also Asked to Find Out What Became of 893 Barrels of Whisky Taken From Warehouse.

A charge to investigate thoroughly the "protected" beer scandal in St. Louis, to ascertain whether bribery of Federal officials to refrain from enforcement of the Volstead act had been attempted or accomplished, and to indict both principals and accessories to any such conspiracy which the evidence may show to have existed, was delivered to the regular grand jury for the March term in United States District Court here today by Federal Judge Faris.

Judge Faris also enjoined the grand jurors to find out what had become of 893 barrels of whisky which had been taken from the Jack Daniels warehouse, who took it and who got it.

Beer Report Investigated.

First public knowledge of the beer scandal came on Feb. 22, when the Post-Dispatch disclosed that agents of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue service were investigating reports that real beer was being manufactured and sold here under protection, for which brewers were paying $1 a case. On that day Gus O. Nations, Missouri chief of field forces prohibition enforcement division, advised the Griedelbeck Bros. brewery, an hour or so before general prohibition agents, brought here to raid the plant, had intended to seize the place.

Later that day Nations declared that his brother, State Labor Commissioner Heber Nations, was one of two State officials being investigated by the intelligence officers. The investigation proceeded and on March 7 Raymond B. Griedelbeck, vice president and general manager of the Griedelbeck Bros. brewery, confessed to Government agents that he had paid about $15,000 in protection money to Charles S. Prather, of Advance State Pure Food and Drug Commissioner, and that his company had been permitted to operate the make and sell real beer during the period of those payments. The confession was published exclusively in the Post-Dispatch March 8. Prather resigned to Gov. Hyde at Jefferson City the next day, but denied any guilt.

Judge Faris' Charge.

After impaneling the grand jury of 22 members, with Mark M. Anderson, president of the Title Guaranty Co., as foreman, Judge Faris passed over the various ordinary subjects of grand jury charges with brief treatment, then said:

"A matter has been called to my attention concerning which I know no more than you do. All I know about it I have read in the newspapers, and I suppose you saw it there, too. I refer to the alleged taking of money to refrain or to cause others to refrain from prosecutions touching the Volstead act.

"You gentlemen will inquire into this matter. It has been said that certain persons took payments to protect those making payments from prosecution for violation of the Volstead act.

"Gentlemen, you ought to go fully into the matter.

"It has been intimated broadly by the newspapers that there has been a conspiracy to do this thing."

Defines Conspiracy.

Here the judge paused to define a conspiracy and say that it is punishable under Federal statutes by maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment, then went on:

"A conspiracy may exist whether the law is violated or not. If a conspiracy is formed and certain people did things toward carrying out that conspiracy then they would be guilty of having violated the law. You need not expect that the conspirators worked openly or

THE REED BIRD SINGS A SWAN SONG

W. H. Anderson to Begin Serving One to Two-Year Term in Sing Sing for Forgery.

NEW YORK, March 24.—William H. Anderson, former State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, will start for Sing Sing prison tomorrow, to begin serving his term of from one to two years' imprisonment for third degree forgery.

C. P. Williams, of Anderson's counsel, announced he would surrender his client tomorrow after Supreme Court Justice Wagner today had denied Anderson a motion for a certificate of reasonable doubt of conviction, Jan. 29.

Justice Wagner held that the dry leader had been convicted after a trial marked for its fairness and that the verdict of the jurors, finding Anderson guilty on both counts of an indictment charging forgery was in accordance with the evidence. He added that he could see in the trial record the invasion of no substantial right of the defendant.

It was estimated that Anderson's incarceration would total approximately nine months if he were to get his full credits for good behavior while in prison.

Anderson's conviction came after a sensational trial heard by a jury, nine of whose members freely admitted before their selection that they were inimical to the aims of the Anti-Saloon League. The forgery indictment was based on the charge of O. Bertall Phillips, engaged by Anderson several years ago as a fund solicitor for the league, that his employer had compelled him to "split" with him all his annual commissions, in excess of $10,000. It was alleged that Anderson ordered the league's bookkeepers to change a $4,400 item from Phillips' salary account to his expense account.

BRIGHT LIGHTS OFFEND FRENCH

Napoleonic Law Invoked to Suppress Electric Signs.

PARIS, March 24.—A law handed down from the time of Napoleon is being invoked to suppress Paris from Broadway advertising methods. The large electric signs that have been steadily increasing in number around the Place de l'Opera have hurt the eyes of the French people, accustomed to softer light and offended their artistic taste. Pressure was brought on the Police Department to prevent further desecration of the artistic opera, and the Prefect dug up an ancient statute that gives him jurisdiction over the exterior design of buildings in the vicinity of any particularly interesting sculpture or spot which under French law may be classified as "historical monuments."

So, the opera vicinity may never rival the dazzling brilliancy of Broadway.

TWO AMERICAN PRELATES MADE CARDINALS WITH COLORFUL RITES

Pope, in Allocution, Refers to "Primacy" of United States in Charity and Says This Is Reason for Honors to American Church.

HIS REFERENCE TO EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

Pontiff Says There Are Signs of "Slight Amelioration"—Appeals for Clergy Imprisoned in Russia.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, March 24.—Monsignor Patrick J. Hayes, Archbishop of New York, and Monsignor George W. Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, were made Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church at a secret consistory this morning in the historic Hall of Consistory at the Vatican.

The ceremony, carried out in conformity with centuries-old ritual, was performed in majestic solemnity, amid a setting of colorful splendor.

The two American prelates thus raised to the dignity of princes of the church were not present, but awaited notification of their elevation at their temporary places of residence in Rome, in accordance with custom. Cardinal Hayes received the "big tell" as the notification is called, at the American College, and Cardinal Mundelein at the College of Propaganda.

Papal Allocution.

The Pope in his allocution said America had attained "primacy" in charity, and that he wished to remember this in an unusual way. Therefore he elevated to the sacred purple two prelates whose qualities and the importance of whose sees warranted it.

"In the immense family which God has confided to us," the Pope said, "there are brothers more favored by divine providence, who through the Father of all, come to the assistance of their less fortunate brothers in their trials and disasters.

"Our heart is touched and at the same time exalted toward God, thinking of and beholding their magnificent acts of final piety and fraternal charity. We find pleasure in expressing to them from this exalted place in this distinguished assembly a fervent declaration of our gratitude to you, father who feels himself much indebted on behalf of his suffering children.

"We feel, however, that something would be wanting in this expression of gratitude, if special mention were not made of the position and part which the United States of America took and maintained in this concourse of charity.

First Rank of Charity.

"From the moment in which our voice was first raised in behalf of the poor starving children of Russia, the episcopal clergy and people of the United States responded to our appeal with a promptness and generosity which at once placed them in the first ranks in this crusade of charity.

"This beneficence, shown everywhere and by all, continued for a long time; we can say that it even still continues, though gradually reduced in proportion as the days advanced in which the need diminished.

"Later we intimated that fresh miseries and necessities had arisen in various parts of the world. It was only an intimation as indeed discretion counseled, but it was sufficient to enkindle again everywhere fresh ardor to bestow money and material according to the varying possibilities.

"The slight intimation was sufficient to move the hierarchy, clergy and people, not only to maintain their primacy, but to push forward and upward so they are seen to excel even the grand and wonderful deeds of charity they had previously performed."

Having referred to the mysteries of the Lenten season, the Pontiff expressed his satisfaction at the devoted welcome with which the Bishops and clergy of France received the encyclical on the discipline of the faithful in France to the admiration of the Catholic world.

After referring with emotion to

SKULL BELIEVED TO BE RELIC OF A VERY OLD RACE

Judgment on Find Near Los Angeles Withheld Pending Thorough Examination.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 24.—Excavators employed by a construction concern several days ago unearthed a human skull near here which visiting paleontologists, including Dr. J. C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, declared they believed to be a relic of a race older than either the Neanderthal or the Pit-don man.

The skull is said by scientists who examined it to be different in appearance from the skulls of the typical aborigine of North America, examples of which have recently been found in Southern California. It is not of the Indian type, but of a large migratory strata in the valley which a few years ago gave up fragments of the skeletons of the giant sloth and the saber-toothed tiger.

The skull, in being removed, was broken into fragments, but these have been pieced together. The frontal formation of the skull is said to be decidedly more primitive and resembling that of the Neanderthal man found in the Rhine Valley. The man is described as having been smaller than the Pit-don man found in Susquehanna County, England.

The Los Angeles man, as the owner of the skull is being referred to tentatively, is believed to have lived as long ago as 500,000 years, and certainly not more recently than 60,000 years ago.

DEATH OF BIRDS IN MID-AIR ASCRIBED TO RADIO CURRENTS

Hundreds of Blackbirds Electrocuting in Strange Phenomenon Over Jersey Fruit Farm.

BURLINGTON, N. J., March 24.—Powerful radio currents are suggested as possibly having electrocuted in mid-air several hundred blackbirds in a large migratory flock, while they passed over J. R. Lipincott's fruit farm yesterday. Not a mark was found on the slain birds. Death apparently was instantaneous.

Wilson J. Levy, farm superintendent, and other persons witnessed the phenomenon. They were watching the flock when a whirlwind seemed to sweep the center and dead birds rained down in an orchard.

Harry Thomas was knocked from an apple tree he was pruning when one of the victims fell back first in his face. Children gathered baskets full of the birds, which later went into pot pies.

Local ornithologists and agriculturalists are puzzled over the occurrence. Livesy sent a number of the dead birds to the State Experiment Station at New Brunswick to determine the cause of death.

$7000 TAKEN IN HOLDUP OF KANSAS CITY CAR BARNS

Unmasked Men Cover Six Trainmen and Get Sunday Receipts of Nine Lines.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 24.—Five unmasked men held up the Kansas City Street Railways car barn at Ninth street and Brighton avenue today and escaped with $7,000, yesterday's receipts on nine lines.

Two of the men remained in a motor car while three entered the car barn office, each armed with two revolvers. After forcing six trainmen either to lie on the floor or raise their hands, the bandits took the money sacks from F. W. Bennett, cashier.

SENATE CERTIFIES SINCLAIR CONTEMPT CASE TO DISTRICT COURT BY VOTE OF 72 TO 1

BANK CLOSED AFTER CASHIER ENDS HIS LIFE

State Examiners in Charge of Institution at Columbia, Ill., Having Deposits of $290,000.

INQUIRY REQUESTED BY THE DIRECTORS

Action Result of Rumors That Worry Over Financial Affairs Caused Louis Dehn to Shoot Self.

Investigation of the accounts of the Monroe County Savings Bank and Trust Co. of Columbia, Ill., 14 miles southeast of St. Louis, the cashier and general manager of which shot and killed himself Saturday, was begun today by deputies of the State Bank Examiner of Illinois.

The bank, which has a capital of $50,000 and recorded deposits of approximately $290,000, is closed pending the investigation. The State Banking Department was requested to order the examination by the directors of the bank because of rumors that the cashier and general manager, Louis Dehn, was driven to kill himself by worry over financial affairs.

However, members of the family of Dehn, as well as officials of the bank, declare the affair of the institution are not involved. The official examination of the bank's records will show that, they say, and it was only to hush the gossip concerning the cashier's death.

Cause of Dehn's Worries.

The fact that Dehn had invested about $15,000 in a milling enterprise, which resulted in a loss due to the closing of the mill after the death of its president about a year ago, had nothing to do with the affair, the bank officials of the institution say, although it may have been partly responsible for the worries of Dehn.

Rumors of recent large withdrawals of deposits from the bank also were denied by the bank's president, Killian Coerver of Palmyre, Mo. He added that Dehn acted as private banker for many residents of Columbia who had great confidence in him, and although Coerver believed these accounts to be in good shape, he said a complete audit of the bank's books would be necessary to show their exact status.

The Monroe County Savings and Trust Co., was organized in 1912 by Dehn and his brother-in-law, vice president, yesterday admitted that he had been deceived by a long statement made public Saturday by Sinclair after Sinclair had refused to answer questions propounded by the committee. The Senator said that the statement had not been filed with the committee.

TWO MORE INVESTIGATIONS AUTHORIZED BY HOUSE

One Is Into Aircraft Industry, Other Into Alleged Duplication of Bonds.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The House today authorized two more investigations—one into the aircraft industry, the other into alleged duplication of Government bonds at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

The resolution for the aircraft investigation provides for the appointment of a special committee of inquiry. At the suggestion of Representative Longworth, Republican leader, the speaker was authorized to name a committee of nine.

Banker Ends Life Under Street Car.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—Morris W. Stroud Jr., 36 years old, president of the banking concern of Stroud & Co., ended his life today by throwing himself in front of an electric car at Villanova, a suburb. The banker, it was said, suffered a nervous breakdown a week ago. Stroud & Co. have branches in New York and Washington. The affairs of the concern are said to be in excellent shape.

UPHAM TELEGRAPHS DENIAL, NOT TO APPEAR IN INQUIRY NOW

By the Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24.—After receipt of a telegraphic request for his appearance before the Senate Oil Investigating Committee Wednesday, March 28, a date, which, he said, precluded his arrival in Washington as indicated, Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, left the Salt River Valley last night for Pasadena, Cal. Upham telegraphed the Senate Committee a reiteration of his denial of knowledge of Harry Sinclair's $75,000 contribution to the Republican party, reported in dispatches quoting Will Hays' testimony. He said he planned to proceed to Pasadena on a business trip and was not certain when he would go to the capital.

MEMPHIS BANKER, SHORT $60,000, ENDS HIS LIFE

Robert S. Polk, Induced to Return From El Paso, Shoots Himself After Declaring His Innocence.

By the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—Robert S. Polk, former vice president of the United and Farmers Bank and Trust Co., shot and killed himself at 8 o'clock this morning at his home. Polk disappeared last week after a shortage of $60,000 was discovered in the funds of the bank. He left Memphis in a dazed condition, went to Louisville, returned to Memphis, then went to New Orleans, Fort Worth and was on his way to California when friends at El Paso removed him from a train.

Polk steadfastly refused to make any statement, and persisted in maintaining that he was innocent. He returned to Memphis Saturday and he promised that everything would be explained. Auditors declare there is no further shortage in the finances of the bank.

Late Friday night the bank increased its capital by $1,000,000. Officers of the Memphis lumber corporation, of which Polk was vice president, yesterday admitted that an irregularity of $10,000 had been discovered.

Mrs. Polk was in the bathroom adjoining the bedroom and called to her husband: "It's time to get up, dear."

A pistol shot was the answer, and she found her husband on the floor with a bullet wound in the right temple.

The suicide came as a climax of a week of developments which included announcement of the shortage at the bank, the discharge of vice president, yesterday admitted that he had been deceived by a long statement made public Saturday by Sinclair after Sinclair had refused to answer questions propounded by the committee. The Senator said that the statement had not been filed with the committee.

Reply to Sinclair Statement.

Replying to Sinclair's statement that he had been called before the committee five times, Walsh said that was chiefly by reason of the fact that the witness failed to disclose all of the material facts in his knowledge, during his previous appearances.

"I leaked out, little by little," Walsh said. "He did not tell anything more than he was obliged to tell under searching interrogation."

Sinclair, the Senator said, had not told the committee "how he paid a million dollars for face claims on Teapot Dome and then paid another million to purchase the silence of a newspaper," adding: "It was to avoid inquiry into that matter that he declined to answer."

With or "Without Secrecy."

Walsh read the Sinclair statement declaring the loan of $25,000 to Fall had been negotiated "without secrecy."

"I don't know how it could have been made more secret," Walsh said. "Zevely himself (J. W. Zevely, Sinclair's attorney) made a trip to New Mexico in that connection and the bonds were transferred by express to a bank named by Fall. How would the committee or the public ever have known of the transaction save through the direct cross-examination of witnesses?"

Sinclair, the Senator said, was of New Hampshire, presiding, said it was the opinion of the chair that action by the President of the Senate was unnecessary. "Since he has offered it, however," Moore continued.

ACTION AFTER WALSH URGES GRAND JURY PROCEEDING

Senator, Reviewing Magistrate's Refusal to Testify, "Trusts (He Will Be Given Limit of Penalty."

FALL'S SON-IN-LAW REFUSES TO TESTIFY

Takes Ground Answers Might Tend to Incriminate Him; Criminal Action in Oil Cases April 10

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The law officers of the Government were asked today by the Senate to bring contempt proceedings against Harry F. Sinclair, whose lease of Teapot Dome started the rolling snowball of the oil inquiry. By a vote of 72 to 1, the Senate adopted a resolution by its oil committee certifying Sinclair to the District Attorney on a contempt charge because of his refusal to testify further in the Teapot Dome case.

When the Senate began voting on Walsh's resolution, Senators answered eye without regard to party until Senator Ellkins (Rep.) of West Virginia was called. He voted no.

Immediately after Chairman Walsh submitted the committee report naming the citation, Senator Ladd, the committee "prosecutor," recommended that the case be certified to the District of Columbia courts for grand jury proceedings.

In urging his motion, Walsh declared the "witness is taking all the chances for the extreme penalty of the law and if he is found in error I shall hope to see him treated with the utmost rigor of the law."

"I trust," Walsh added, "he will be given the limit of penalty the law provides for each separate point involved in his case."

This witness thus has defied this body and has scouted its authority, then has rushed into the newspapers to tell the story he declined to tell upon the stand."

Walsh had reference to a long statement made public Saturday by Sinclair after Sinclair had refused to answer questions propounded by the committee. The Senator said that the statement had not been filed with the committee.

Reply to Sinclair Statement.

Replying to Sinclair's statement that he had been called before the committee five times, Walsh said that was chiefly by reason of the fact that the witness failed to disclose all of the material facts in his knowledge, during his previous appearances.

President Turns to Senators for Advice on What to Do About His Attorney-General

Coolidge Expected to Act Now That Daugherty Probably Has Lost Power to Hurt Him in Ohio

Senators Angry Over Executive's Delay and He Asks About Weight of Evidence in Investigation.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
29-33 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—There has been a recurrence of the rumors that President Coolidge might act soon to sever relations with Attorney-General Daugherty. It is learned that for the last day or two Mr. Coolidge has been making inquiries among Senators and others as to the weight which they thought should be attached to the testimony already given before the Brookhart committee.

And there is every reason to believe this advice has been that enough evidence has been produced to warrant the President in the removal of the Attorney-General, not on the strength of any direct evidence against Daugherty, but on the mass of testimony piling up against his closest associates and those who have occupied confidential positions about the Department of Justice.

For the last week there has been growing dissatisfaction and anger among the Senators at the President's delay in acting. Nevertheless for several days a hands-off policy was adopted owing to the fact that following the visit which Senators Peppoe and Lodge paid to the White House, their associates were given to understand that no further advice concerning Daugherty was wanted.

Acute Feeling Produced.
This produced a situation bordering on acute feeling between the Senate and the White House. Now, however, the President appears to be waking up a bit, with the result that he is again seeking advice. Senator Brookhart has spent an evening with him, and others are known to have been consulted along the same line.

What the advice is that Mr. Coolidge is receiving is not known, but it is believed that the position taken yesterday afternoon by one of the hardest shells of the Republican group. This man did not concern himself primarily with the question of whether Daugherty was guilty or innocent. He did say and in this there is no doubt he reflected the opinion of the bulk of his party associates—that the interpretation being put on the revelations by the country at large is that, if Daugherty was not aware of what was going on among his intimates, he must have been very stupid. And holding this opinion, they are more than anxious to see Daugherty out of the Cabinet and to let his guilt or innocence be decided afterward.

Meanwhile, it is reported, advice has come from at least one of the Ohio Senators that, with Daugherty out of the Cabinet, his influence in that State, so far as ability to injure Coolidge is concerned, would be null.

Daugherty's Power in Ohio.
This Senator believes Daugherty is by no means the power in Ohio he has been for years ago and that Coolidge, by tossing Daugherty out, could win Ohio's support at the convention better than he could by keeping him in. Daugherty is believed to have passed the stage where there is any danger of his homefolks or anyone else in the Republican party trying to make a martyr out of him.

The Attorney-General himself, however, is reported to be more determined than ever to hang on till the last gun, believing the unstable standing of the witnesses is his justification. There is little doubt that, in his resentful mood, he would do all he could to the detriment of Mr. Coolidge's re-election aspirations if he were removed.

But, with the knowledge that there are fresh revelations scheduled for this week which promise to be fully as interesting as those of the past 10 days, those who are best advised on them cannot see how Mr. Coolidge can hang on to Daugherty much longer. No one would be surprised if he acted any day.

SENATE CERTIFIES SINCLAIR CASE TO DISTRICT COURT

would seem best to have the decision of the Senate recorded. The Senate Lodge (Rep.) of Massachusetts and Wadsworth (Rep.) of New York both suggested it would have been better if the committee had rendered some sort of conclusion instead of what the Massachusetts Senator described as "merely an excerpt from the proceedings."

Text of the Citation.
After reviewing the resolutions under which the committee has been conducting its inquiry, the citation said:

"That on the 22d day of March, 1924, a witness, Harry F. Sinclair, being called before the committee and being on the stand, refused to answer any questions that might be propounded to him by any member of the committee as set forth in the report made by the committee to the Senate on Saturday, the said 22d day of March, 1924, a copy of which report is hereto appended and made a part hereof.

"That upon such statement so being made by the said witness, Harry F. Sinclair, questions pertinent to the inquiry being propounded by the said committee were refused to be answered by the said witness as set forth in the said report so submitted on Saturday, the 22d day of March, 1924, which the witness severally declined and refused to answer as therein set forth.

"And now your committee reports to the Senate that the said Harry F. Sinclair, having appeared as a witness before your said committee, refused to answer questions pertinent to the question under inquiry, and is in contempt of the said committee and of the Senate."

Witnesses Freely Pass the Lie at Oil Inquiry.
Oils and ends of testimony bearing on widely scattered aspects of its inquiry went into the record of the Senate Oil Committee today. As if the committee had determined to push their task of investigation to a quick conclusion, witnesses succeeded each other rapidly at the big committee table and most of them were dismissed with only a scant semblance of cross-examination.

Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, declined to answer any questions by the oil committee of the ground that any answer might tend to incriminate him. Price McKinney of Cleveland had testified that Chase visited him at his home to ask him if he had made the famous $500,000 loan to Fall.

The Government counsel to the oil committee returned from the West today, conferred with President Coolidge and announced that criminal proceedings in the cases would begin before a grand jury here about April 10.

Carmel A. Thompson, of Cleveland, one of President Coolidge's campaign managers and a close friend of the President, testified that he had no knowledge of an "oil deal" at the Republican National convention of 1920.

Reporter's Testimony.
Hans J. Hays, a reporter for the New York Times, told the committee he had received confirmation from the New York office of Will Hays that Hays would testify to a helped wire out the Republican National Committee deficit after the 1920 campaign. Vivian said such a story was told to him by Joseph J. O'Neill, Hays' publicity director.

The next witness, Martin J. Powers of Philadelphia, denied a story that he was interested in any way in Teapot Dome and then proceeded to brand as "ignominious lies" various other stories he said had been circulated about him.

He was succeeded on the witness stand by Michael Circelli, also of Philadelphia, who in turn denied some of the testimony of Powers.

Excursion Into Politics.
Before the questioning of Thompson began, there was a brief excursion into the matter of Sinclair's contribution to the Republican National Committee to help make up the deficit resulting from the 1920 campaign.

Senator Spencer (Rep.) of Missouri, remarked that he had noticed that a subpoena was out for Fred W. Upham, the Republican National treasurer.

"I know ask that we subpoena the chairman and secretary of the Democratic National Committee," said Spencer. "I notice Mr. E. L. Doherty testified he gave $75,000 to the Democratic National Committee while its records show, as published, only $50,000 from him. Since we are going into these matters, we ought to get both sides."

Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana suggested that the Republican funds had been investigated only so far as they were involved in the oil leases and Senator Dill (Dem.) of Washington said the Republican administration had been elected and this made the inquiry into Republican funds pertinent.

Thompson's Statement.
Carmel Thompson, who was at the Chicago convention as a Harding supporter, then testified. He said he had no proposition made by Jake Hamon of Oklahoma, relating to support of Senator Harding, and that no such suggestion was made to or through him. He said that the ground that any answer might tend to incriminate him.

Price McKinney of Cleveland had testified that Chase visited him at his home to ask him if he had made the famous $500,000 loan to Fall.

The Government counsel to the oil committee returned from the West today, conferred with President Coolidge and announced that criminal proceedings in the cases would begin before a grand jury here about April 10.

ing prior to the nomination. Thompson began, "that the deadlock was hopeless between the three leading candidates and that Mr. Harding would be given additional votes next day, with the object of seeing whether he could develop strength."

Story of 75,000 Oil Shares.
The witness, an ex-cousin, and Chairman Ladd (Rep.) of North Dakota, read a telegram from O'Neill of Will H. Hays' office in New York denying that he had ever authorized a newspaper statement to the effect that Sinclair had given the Republican National Committee 75,000 shares of Sinclair stock. O'Neill said he had absolutely no knowledge of such a circumstance.

Vivian, a reporter for the New York Times, who wrote the story referred to, saying that it was understood Hays would testify that oil stock was involved in the Sinclair contribution, then was called to the witness stand. He testified that O'Neill had told him Hays would testify that Sinclair had given 75,000 shares of stock to wipe out the party deficit.

Vivian told of being instructed to see Hays to learn about the latter's appearance before the committee. On the search for Hays, he said, he found O'Neill, whom he described as "assistant to Mr. Hays in charge of publicity."

He got the story from the committee, O'Neill said, "I suppose he got it from Harry Sinclair, the two have been friends for years. I have conveyed the impression to him that he was thoroughly in Hays' confidence, the witness said, and talked about his principal receipt of an income of $40,000 a year from his Indiana law firm."

Vivian continued that later he had a telephone conversation with O'Neill, confirming the stock transaction but arranging for its publication without quoting Hays. Senator Stanfield (Rep.) of Oregon asked what 75,000 shares of Sinclair stock was worth at the time of the alleged gift and Vivian put the figures at "somewhere about $1,000,000." In his discussion with O'Neill, however, he said, the figure of $500,000 had come up.

O'Neill did not submit any proof, did he, to verify the story? asked Senator Bursum (Rep.) of New Mexico. "I wouldn't ask him for that," Vivian replied.

O'Neill's telegram, the witness said, "was almost in its entirety false."

Martin J. Powers, a Philadelphia attorney, then was questioned about a story by Charles E. Oelshlager, a reporter, that he had secured the lease of Teapot Dome, a never-owned a blade of grass in Teapot Dome. Powers said in denying Oelshlager's statement made in Philadelphia.

Chase, who is Collector of Customs at El Paso, was called. "I decline respectfully to answer any questions on the ground that my testimony might incriminate me," Chase cut into Senator Walsh's first question.

"Do you intend to make that an-bathroom floor of the apartment which he shared with Attorney-General Daugherty at the Wardman-Park Hotel here on May 30, 1923. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

The sound of a shot was heard by Warren F. Smith, special assistant to the Attorney-General, in an adjoining apartment, and he rushed in to find Smith, clad in a bathrobe, with his head in a waste basket and a gun beside him. Attorney-General Daugherty was absent, having spent the night at the White House.

"It appeared a plain case of suicide to me," said Dr. Nevitt today, in explaining why no autopsy was held. "There were no suspicious circumstances about the death, and I saw no reason for ordering an autopsy."

The testimony of Roxie Stinson, Smith's divorced wife, that prior to his death Smith had told her of his fears that "they are going to get me" has not changed the belief that Smith killed himself. Dr. Nevitt said, Roxie Stinson commented particularly about the absence of powder stains on Smith's temple.

"That can be easily explained," said Dr. Nevitt. "Smith shot himself with an automatic of high calibre, and the cartridge contained a white powder which completely exploded. The ordinary black powder does not completely explode and consequently leaves a mark."

"Smith was probably sitting when he shot himself. He fell over immediately, his head striking a waste basket. The automatic was near him. I made a globose study of the position of the body, the location of the gun, the entrance of the bullet into the left temple and its exit through the right temple, and the final lodging place of the bullet in the floor. All this convinced me it was suicide."

At the time of Smith's death various reasons were ascribed by his friends for his chief ailment, but Dr. Nevitt said that he had undergone a serious operation a few months before.

Says Smith Left Hospital Before His Wound Had Healed.

COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—A member of the hospital staff where Jesse W. Smith, "bunker" and friend of Attorney-General Daugherty, died on March 12, 1923, has made the following statement concerning his stay and operation there:

"Mr. Smith entered the hospital May 19, 1923. His condition was such that he was suffering from acute appendicitis, complicated by diabetes."

"He was in a semi-conscious condition for several days, probably due to diabetes and absorption from the acute infection of his abdomen. About 11 days after entering the hospital he had improved sufficiently so that an operation was performed and the appendix removed. He remained in a semi-conscious condition for three or four days, but gradually improved. He was discharged from the hospital June 7, 1923, but at the time his wound had not completely healed."

Sex was on Smith's body at the time of his death in 1923 were referred to in Saturday's testimony before the Daugherty investigation committee by Roxie Stinson, former wife of Smith.

AL Jennings Says He'll Tell Story of 'Hamon Deal'.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Al Jennings, former Oklahoma oilman and now an evangelist, yesterday reiterated his statement made in Los Angeles last week that he would offer startling testimony to the Senate Committee investigating Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Jennings is en route from Los Angeles to Washington to appear before the committee for questioning in connection with a statement he was quoted as making that a cash payment of $1,000,000 bought the nomination of Warren G. Harding at Chicago in 1920.

"I cannot go into details now," Jennings stated, "as I have not yet reached Washington, but I have some disclosures for the Senate investigating committee that I believe will prove something like a sensation."

"I made a speech at a meeting at Long Beach and I happened to mention something about the 'Hamon deal' that led to questions and before I knew it I was telling a few of the inside facts that had come to me through long acquaintance with Jake Hamon and a long residence in Oklahoma. I did not tell all I knew, by a long way, but what I said got into print and it was long until Washington began to get interested. I made up my mind to keep still then, as I felt that if I were summoned before the Senate Committee, there was a place to tell what I knew and tell it in detail. So enough the subpena came and I am on my way to Washington with my story bottled up inside me."

Jennings said he would "tell the whole story" of the "million-dollar deal engineered by Hamon at the time of the Harding nomination."

INVESTIGATION INTO SUICIDE OF SMITH BEGINS IN CAPITAL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—An investigation began today into the suicide of Jesse W. Smith, confidential of Attorney-General Daugherty, as a result of the alleged insinuations cropping out in the testimony of the Brookhart committee.

J. Ramsey Nevitt, Coroner of the District of Columbia, who returned the verdict of suicide, probably will be called before the Senate investigating committee, it developed.

HOT DEBATE IN HOUSE OVER GILLETTE'S SPEECH

Speaker Defends His Recent Boston Utterances About Senate—Resolution Criticizes Caraway.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Speaker Gillette's remarks about the Senate, made during a recent address in Boston, stirred up a heated debate today in the House, during which the Speaker laid aside his gavel and took the floor to defend himself.

The discussion was precipitated by Representative Treadway (Rep.) of Massachusetts, who offered a resolution criticizing Senator Caraway (Dem.) of Arkansas, for attacking the Speaker on the Senate floor Saturday.

Treadway withdrew his resolution at the Speaker's request and the latter, amid the cheers of his colleagues, stepped from the Speaker's rostrum for a five-minute speech. Speaker Gillette told the House that he would interpose no objection to the House acting on any resolution questioning his right to make the reference he did to the Senate body. He explained that the resolution offered today was presented without his knowledge.

Representative Wingo (Dem.) of Arkansas, said before the Speaker began his address, that Gillette in his Boston speech had violated the spirit of the House rules, and in defending his action Gillette said certain Democratic members, including Wingo, in the last campaign, had made remarks more complimentary about the Senate than he used.

Republicans interrupted the Speaker several times to applaud, and cheered particularly when Representative Connelly of Massachusetts put in a remark that as a Democrat he thought Gillette was within his rights in using the privilege of free speech when not presiding over the House.

SECRETARY WILBUR TAKES UP DUTIES IN NAVY DEPARTMENT

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Curtis D. Wilbur of California, the new Secretary of the Navy, arrived in Washington today, conferred with President Coolidge and then was installed at his desk at the Navy Department.

Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur were met at the station by two naval officers, one of the White House automobiles. Mr. Wilbur went directly to the White House and spent a quarter of an hour with the President in a general discussion of his new work.

NEGRO GIVEN DOUBLE HONOR

Two Counts Name Him G. O. P. Delegate.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 24.—J. P. Washington, negro janitor for the rather unique honor of being chosen as delegate from two counties to two separate Republican conventions.

He was elected as one of Cole County's delegates to the Republican State convention at Springfield, and also has been chosen a Boone County delegate to the Eighth Congressional District Republican convention, to be held here tomorrow. He formerly resided in Columbia, Boone County, but since acquiring a state job has transferred his residence here and votes in Cole County.

In fact his customers seemed to have more confidence in him than they had in organized banking institutions. On this account the Monroe Savings and Trust Co., commonly was referred to as "Dehn's Bank."

He was one of the most active members of St. Paul's Evangelical Church at Columbia, a leader in civic affairs and a member of the Commercial Club. Regardless of the outcome of the examination of the books, President Coover said, the bank will remain closed tomorrow, when the funeral takes place. A widow, two sons and three daughters survive.

Jennings intimated that some prominent names might figure in his testimony.

"I'll have a lot of them jumping," he said. "There are some people who know what I am going to tell, and I believe they would bump me off or buy me off if they could, but they can't do either."

DELAY IN CONGRESS ON MANY BILLS ALARMS COOLIDGE

President Said to Realize That Republicans Only Are Responsible for Failure to Speed Legislation.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Is the Senate Finance Committee wasting time in its consideration of the tax bill? Are the Republican leaders asleep at the switch and allowing the legislative program to drift along without propulsion?

Those questions are now being asked by Democrats but by Republicans, for there is evidence that the administration is chafing under the delays. President Coolidge's conferences with members of Congress in the last few days grow out of an effort to cure a situation which if unchecked may wreck the party's chances for continuance in power. The Democrats are not obstructing, indeed, when Representative Longworth, Republican floor leader, asked the House for unanimous consent so as to speed appropriation bills or work longer sessions, the opposition party did not avail itself of the privilege of combating him.

So anxious in the Senate, the Democrats are not impeding progress and are said to be willing to assist the Republicans in getting the tax bill reported out of committee so that it may have its chance on the floor. In other words, the responsibility for delay is on the party in power and the administration is so conscious of that responsibility that it has diplomatically begun to press for action.

Appropriations Not in Danger.
As the situation stands now, the appropriation bills are in peril. The only measures which are likely to cause controversy are the army and navy bills and the bill providing for the independence of the Shipping Board. All these bills, unless they encounter extraordinary delay, should be out of the way by the first week in April.

The tax bill, if completed in committee, would be given six weeks thereafter the national convention would be held and it is the hope of the administration that an adjournment can be taken at the end of the fiscal year, June 30. By holding night sessions the tax measure can be put through the Senate by the end of May and allowing for a few weeks in conference, could become law by the end of June. It would be a great help to the Government to know on June 30 what revenues it may expect for the year 1925. Also the separate resolution providing for a reduction in 1925 incomes is expected to be acted upon before the next payments become due, June 15.

Apart from the tax bill, the immigration bill must be acted on one way or the other as the present law expires June 29 and some measure to prevent wholesale immigration is sure to be passed.

West Demands Farm Relief.
Farmer relief is in the offing. The West is demanding action. The McNary-Haugen bill is the principal measure under consideration but it is being bitterly attacked as economically unsound, impractical and impossible of operation. The bill introduced by Senator Curtis (Rep.) of Kansas, providing for interstate marketing associations, has many features in it that are commended by the administration and while the McNary-Haugen bill is in the hands of the Senate, the McNary-Haugen bill is being pushed through the House.

Some of these matters will not be acted upon before June 30, but Congress will not adjourn without answering in some way the demand for a soldier bonus and providing for the amendment of existing laws with respect to the payment of bonuses to veterans. It is a part of the President's program to get the bill passed before June 30.

Apartment from the tax bill, the immigration bill must be acted on one way or the other as the present law expires June 29 and some measure to prevent wholesale immigration is sure to be passed.

TAX REFUNDS EXCEED MILLIONS KING TELLS SENATE

Senator Courtesy Says He Considers Large Amount of Refunds a Fair Hire a Fair.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Senator Courtesy (Rep.) of Michigan brought the question of tax refunds before the Senate in a reference to the report of the Treasury showing $122,000,000 in refunds last year. Solicitor General Clegg said that the same period would show a similar amount. In the statement, however, he said, "no refund was made before collection."

Senator Courtesy said that he considered the large amount of refunds a fair hire a fair.

ORIENTAL DANCING, JUST AS ADVERTISED

Show at Hall, Owned by Company Officer by Assistant Prosecutors, Raided.

Oriental Patsy and Racey Rae danced before 250 men at a stag party in the Eagles Hall Saturday evening and two policemen who were present said the show was as advertised—Patsy and Racey had nothing on at all.

After the police morality squad had raided the show and arrested all concerned, detectives remembered a number of things concerning Eagles Hall.

The building is owned by a corporation of which Ben Philipson, Associate Prosecuting Attorney, is president, and Henry Mueller, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, vice president. A klavern of the Ku Klux Klan meets at Eagles Hall regularly under the name of the "United Societies."

In spite of this sponsorship, morality squad officers had been informed, exhibitions like that of Saturday night or worse have not been uncommon to Eagles Hall.

Associate Prosecuting Attorney Philipson disclaimed responsibility for occurrences of this nature to a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

"You Know How Parties Are," "I don't rent the building," he said. "Leases are taken care of by our manager. He lets out the halls for entertainments. The switchmen and waitmen, the Ku Klux Klan and American Legion boys have parties there. Of course you know how parties are. Girls come out and dance and then some man throws a dollar on the stage and says, 'Take 'em off.' They take off some clothes and more money falls on the stage. 'Take more off,' the boys yell."

"I suppose that sometimes so much money is thrown at the girls that they haven't anything left to take off. You know how things are. But we can't control that. We don't know. I have never heard of an affair like that at Eagles Hall."

Philipson explained that he and Mueller were Eagles and that he and eight others took over ownership of the building when it became too much of a burden for the lodge.

"They Danced 'Without.'"

The affair of Saturday night was a privately advertised stag party and tickets costing $1.50 were sold. Among those who purchased were Probationary Patrolmen Sierloff and Brown, acting under orders.

A stage like a prize ring had been set up in the center of the main auditorium. Sierloff and Brown said that at first six girls danced and sang with some clothes on, but the audience demanded "Take 'em off." At this juncture the promoter waved the girls off and said: "Now boys, Oriental Patsy and Racey Rae are going to dance 'Without.'"

Girls and Promoters Arrested.
The dancers gave their names as Mabel Voecher, 21, of 3565 Delmar boulevard, and Dolores McDonald, 26, of 3927 Delmar boulevard. Both said they were telephone operators.

The promoter of the show, Robert Weber, 37, of 3644 Washington boulevard, owner of a theatrical agency in the Times Building, also was arrested. He denied there had been any indecency about the dancing. Albert Stanford of 3401 Eads avenue, ticket seller, also was held. Receipts amounting to $207 were found in Weber's possession.

All four appeared in Police Court today to answer charges and their hearing was set for April 22 by Provisional Judge Allison on petition of their counsel.

SHOOT BROTHER BY ACCIDENT
Alton Youth Reported to Be in Critical Condition.

Edward Stevens, 14 years old, of Alton, Ill., who was accidentally shot in the breast by his brother, Arthur, 18, while they were playing near their home Saturday, was reported to be in a critical condition today. The boys and their father, after chopping wood on the father's farm, had started for home when Arthur shoved a revolver against Edward and it was discharged.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Musterole Works Without the Bitter-Lavender Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plaster, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from nerve twinges, rheumatism, sprains, contusions, neuralgia, headache, toothache, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia and other forms of pain. Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 55c and 65c jars and tubes.

Stop that cough right now—

YOU can often prevent serious complications by giving Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey at once. Dr. Bell's loosens hard-packed phlegm, soothes inflamed tissues and restores normal breathing. Made of just the medicines that up-to-date doctors recommend—combined with the old-time favorite, pine-tree honey. Children like its pleasant taste.

All druggists. Be sure to get DR. BELL'S Pine-Tar Honey

CLERGY APPROVES BAREFOOT DANCING IN CHURCH SERVICE

Guests of Dr. Guthrie, Who Defies Bishop's Mandate, Unable to See "What All the Row Is About."

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 24.—The doors of old St. Mark's-in-the-Bowery, closed by firemen and guarded by police reserves, creaked open yesterday under the pressure of disappointed crowds, eager to witness "The ritual dance of the Della Robbia Annunciation," given for the first time since Bishop Manning peremptorily ordered its discontinuance as a violation of Episcopal Church rules.

Among those who crowded the interior of the church to the limit of the fire laws were at least 75 members of the clergy, present by invitation of the Rev. Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Mark's, author of the libretto of the ritualistic dance, whose action in having it performed twice yesterday is generally accepted as an open defiance to Bishop Manning.

"But not so," says Dr. Guthrie. "I offered to let the Bishop appoint 25 of a jury of 50 to judge the dance and he ignored the offer. What then? I invited the clergy and the public to witness it and judge for themselves. The Bishop's stand is autocratic. I take the democratic view and on this dance I will stand or fall."

Approved by Clergy and Laity. Whatever favor or disfavor the dance may have for the laity, in the minds of those who saw it, clergy and laity paid it the tribute of that rare pinfall silence always indicative of an almost breathless attention.

And after the performance groups of clergymen and laymen gathered about Dr. Guthrie and told him they enjoyed and approved it all, while others remained that, after witnessing the ritual, they could not see "what all the row is about."

The Rev. Dr. Karl Reiland, rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, said he found the dances "beautiful and inspiring."

"I am perfectly certain that if Bishop Manning had been there he would have seen nothing objectionable," Dr. Reiland added.

Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, former pastor of Madison Square Presbyterian Church, said: "Such services should receive my commendation. The pantomime was beautiful and the ritual had a definite spiritual value."

The Rev. H. M. Bowden of the Home Mission Board of the Congregationalist Church said he was pleased and that Dr. Guthrie had "a large idea."

Scene in Historic Church. The dance does not burst upon one in a blaze of glory. The lights, the music, the service that precedes it, all lead up to it and in the creation of an atmosphere that puts the mind of the spectator in a condition of utmost receptivity. He is splendidly prepared by all that goes before to credit the dance with all the good motives claimed for it. And so:

Picture an ancient church where lights burn dim, with stained glass windows that make a golden afternoon without seem like the twilight hour, surprised figures in pulpit and choir loft, minor strains of a great organ and the odor of incense all about. Then a voice which seems to arise but does not quite subside the organ, which plays a soft accompaniment, reading in impressive style Dante Gabriel Rossetti's "Ave."

Dance "Hopelessly Degraded." Even then the audience seemed prepared, almost eager for the one thing that it came for—the dance. But there followed a short address by Dr. Guthrie in which he declared dances of today are so "hopelessly degraded" that one seldom sees anything worthy of the name.

And then the lights grew dim and "Hymn to the Madonna" sounded like a farewell to day. With almost funeral strides, two black-gowned men drew great curtains that shut off the church sanctuary back of the pulpit and with reverent hands carried to the front a great "Banner of the Annunciation." A harp had joined its softness to the organ's flute-like notes. Even the twilight had faded now and a pale moon seemed to have drifted slowly from behind a cloud.

Six Take Part in Dance. Sixty-four white-robed female figures appeared. They were barefoot and their flowing robes were of white silk, devoid of rustle. They represented Birth, Death, Pain and Pleasure. They crossed and recrossed slowly to soft music.

Six Take Part in Dance. A fifth figure appeared—an Angel representing the awakening of self-consciousness. Then the four who entered first became more alive. A sixth figure, the Virgin Spirit, entered and won, symbolically, them all. Birth, Death, Pain and Pleasure, even the Angel of Consciousness paid her homage and personated her with gifts.

The Virgin Spirit, however, turning to the Banner of the Annunciation, cast off her gift mantle and offered her other gifts, the Virgin Mother of Christ. The dance was ended and the figures slowly walked away.

The audience seemed to take its first deep breath since the dance started. Many left the church before the closing hymn and prayer.

REGULAR HABITS NOW,
CONSTIPATION GONE

Mr. Brooks suffered for years. Tells how he got relief.

"I have tried a great many things for constipation, but the only thing that has been able to relieve me is Milk's Emulsion. I am on only my second bottle and have to take very little of it now. My bowels move regularly every morning, which they have not been doing for a number of years. It seems like living again, after suffering so long. I recommend Milk's Emulsion to two of my friends and both say it is the best remedy they ever heard of." Elmer C. Brooks, 329 Washington St., Peoria, Ill.

Constipation weakens the bowel muscles. Salts and purgatives only increase this condition. Milk's Emulsion is a real corrective remedy. You can try it under its guaranty, without risking a cent.

Milk's Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action; does away with all need of pills and purgatives. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food, and thus build flesh and strength. Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened; it is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble is promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Wonderful for weak, sickly children.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair by Washing It

When you wash children's hair be careful what you use. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely grassless. It is inexpensive and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh-looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store, and a few ounces will last for months.

MACDONALD TO REJECT FRENCH SECURITY PLAN

British Premier Cuts Short Country Holiday to Deal With Deadlock Among Reparations Experts.

FRENCH REFUSE TO CUT WAR CLAIMS

Financiers Unwilling for Britain to Try to Raise International Loan for Germany.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON, London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, March 24.—Premier MacDonald cut short his country holiday and Downing street witnesses the unusual spectacle of a Sunday conference between the Premier and British representatives of the Dawes expert committee, who had arrived from Paris with Sir John Bradbury of the Reparations Commission.

Macdonald must deal with the deadlock among the experts over continued payment by Germany of the costs of occupation and the proposal to raise an international loan on the security of German railroads. The French Ambassador is expected to call at the Foreign Office today to press Premier Poincaré's desire for an Anglo-French pact guaranteeing French security.

It appears now that preliminary exchange of courtesies between the antagonists is about over, and that Macdonald and Poincaré are about to come to grips. It is certain the French Government will refuse the French request, based on Poincaré's suggestion in 1922, that German aggression, calling for British intervention, be assumed in event that breaks occur on either eastern or western frontiers as laid down in the treaty. The effort of France to get Great Britain to guarantee the security of Poland and other eastern states never has been considered seriously here.

Germany Rejects Plan. After turning down the Poincaré proposal, however, Macdonald must deal with the proposal he suggested in his last letter to Poincaré, that the Rhineland be neutralized and guaranteed under the League of Nations. Since then the German Government, informally but definitely, has let it be known that Germany will not accept permanent neutralization.

Before the French elections, Poincaré, it is thought, intends to try to pin Macdonald down to some definite proposals for French security, in which it appears likely he will fail.

A high British authority, in close touch with the Dawes committee, insists that no real progress has been made. Europe stands regarding reparations, exactly where it stood in January, 1923, he declares, when the Bonar Law settlement was rejected by the French. Since then, however, the Ruhr occupation has made the situation much worse.

British experts have reported to Macdonald that the Dawes findings will be based on the original Belgian reparations suggestion, which proposed that Germany pay £140,000,000 ($600,000,000) a year, equivalent to 7 per cent on the total German debt of £2,000,000,000. The French asked an annuity of £253,000,000. The British originally suggested £100,000,000 and the compromise figure of £140,000,000 was reached, Dawes holding out for this amount against the wishes of some of his American and British colleagues. The compromise figure was made necessary by the French refusal to budget Poincaré's demand that France get a minimum of 26,000,000,000 gold marks ($6,000,000,000) annually, plus occupation costs and whatever was necessary to pay on the debts to Great Britain and the United States.

Experts Pessimistic. Profound pessimism, in striking contrast to optimistic press reports, represents the real attitude of the British experts. It is based on the impossibility of collecting the annual amount from Germany except out of the proceeds of an international reparations loan, which financial authorities, backed by the treasury, will declare it inadvisable for Britain to attempt to raise.

The only sources of such a loan are Lamm and New York, and the British refusal leaves it up to American bankers to furnish Germany with funds to pay reparations. If, as thought likely, American reparations decline then in the words of the same authorities, the findings of the Dawes committee remain "a ludicrous farce."

ing. Presentation of the report now, they argue, probably would furnish ammunition to German reactionaries with which they could swing the Reichstag to their view of paying no further reparations, and unite its members on a nationalistic policy. If this happened it probably would have a decisive effect on the French elections later and might harden both French and

Doubt as to the advisability of publishing the report before the elections comes mainly from the pessimistic attitude of German political and industrial representatives here. They do not believe warning of many a dangerous disease

WHEN your strength is exhausted and the delicate tissues of your throat and lungs are raw and sore from coughing, you may fall an easy prey to disease—bronchitis, pneumonia, even tuberculosis. That is why it is so important to break up coughs promptly.

For more than fifty years thousands of families have relied upon Dr. King's New Discovery to stop coughs. It does this quickly and naturally, without any bad
after-effects whatsoever, by stimulating the mucous membranes to throw off the clogging secretions. It has an agreeable

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

ELIGIBILITY OF AIDS TO SIDENER QUESTIONED

J. T. Manning and Walter Roos Resigned as Legislators to Take Their Jobs.

Eligibility of Representatives
John T. Manning and Walter Roos to hold positions as assistants to Circuit Attorney Sidener during the terms for which they were elected to the State Legislature has been called into question.

Both were appointed by Sidener
some time ago and have been acting as his assistants, despite a ruling by Attorney-General Barrett in March, 1931, that a member of the Legislature cannot legally hold another public office during the term
for which he was elected to the Legislature.

Barrett's decision, based on an opinion by Merrell E. Otis, then Assistant Attorney-General, was rendered in the case of Representative Verne E. Wilson of Douglas County, appointed by Adjutant-General Raupp as Commissioner of Pensions and War Claims, which was held to be illegal. So Wilson was appointed to a clerkship instead.

Sidener and Manning said that they had considered this question,
but that as Manning and Roos
both had resigned as legislators,
they thought all legal requirements
had been met.

Section 12 of article 4 of the State Constitution, however, provides that "no Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected,
be appointed to any office under this State or any municipality thereof."

Any job created by the Constitution or statutes, the duties and compensation of which are fixed by law and which are continuing and not intermittent, and which involves exercise of the sovereign power and the taking of an oath of office, is a public office within the meaning of this section, Barrett held.

A well-informed attorney has declared that the office of Assistant Circuit Attorney, which was created by Section 704 of the Revised Statutes, the salary of which is fixed at $3600 a year, the duties of which are prescribed and an incumbent in which must take an oath of office, also comes under the inhibition of section 12 of article 4 of the Constitution.

Terms for which Manning and Roos were elected will not expire until Dec. 31 next.

MACDONALD TO REJECT FRENCH
SECURITY PLAN

Germany will accept the document.
In its main lines the report will contain proposals already indicated.
It involves control over the gold bank and the railroads, which will be bonded, and taxation. It fixes a four-year moratorium during which only deliveries of coal, coke, etc., are to be made, followed by annual payments aggregating $500,000,000.
Reparations payment are to be reduced to $200,000,000 annually, deductions on the railroads, industry
and agriculture producing the remainder.

These figures are known to German representatives here and on this account those arguing for immediate issuance of the report say it is useless to attempt to keep it a secret. Better out with it, they say,
than have it subject to rumors;
better let France and Germany
know the truth and face realities.
The French are accusing the British of trying to swing the experts to their own views.

"Tear Up Versailles Dictatorship"
Is Cry in Germany.

Copyright, 1934, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, March 24.—Political reactionaries have taken up the battle of big business against the plans for solution of reparations problem.

The formidable Deutsche National party, which concededly is due for enormous gains in the coming elections, has issued an appeal against
"forging new chains to the out."

The head of Germany's five big banks have decided to notify the Reich that they reject the experts' plans for internationalization of the railroads and for an international bank of issue. Their political bench-men now call upon the German people to "tear up the lying web around German reparations. Tear up the dictatorship of Versailles.
Teach German youth by military service for willingness for self-sacrifice and discipline."

Further reactionaries comes out with the old cry, beloved by the fallen monarchists, "Union with Austria. From Donau to Belt, one people, one empire, one Kaiser."

The only desire of the reactionaries is to add new significance to the anti-reparations movement at the deciding moment. Even stripped of election bulwarks the Nationalist propaganda is making even a reasonable reparations settlement seem an imposition to the easily persuaded masses.

Is There a Radical Revolt in the

By CHARLES G. ROSS.

Party Labels Mean Little
Dakota; Anything
There in the Novel

While They Have Not Suffered
in North Dakota, Farmers Serving Their Bread-and-

This is the eighth article in the series
Washington correspondent of the Post-Dispatch political conditions in the radical farm states
ordinarily are butchery of conservatism said to be giving up their old political faction with Congress failure to pass
According to reports reaching Washington, La Follette and the group of
of power in Congress.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ABERDEEN, S. D., March 24.— South Dakota is not touched with radicalism to the same extent as its neighbor on the north, but it is far from being a satisfied Republican State. Anything may happen in the November election. A Democrat of the progressive stripe might carry the State, though the Democratic party apparently amounts to very little in South Dakota at present. La Follette on a third party ticket would have a chance; his friends here, indeed, profess the utmost confidence that he would win. On the other hand,
a three-cornered race, with a progressive Democrat at one angle and La Follette at another, might give the State to Coolidge, just as North Dakota went for Coolidge
in the recent Republican primary.
Because the progressive and disaffected vote was split between Johnson and La Follette. A great deal depends on whether La Follette gets into the race, on whether economic conditions improve between now and election time, and on the character of the nominees.

For here, as elsewhere in the Northwest, party labels have lost their old appeal. What counts with the farmer is not the name of the candidate, but whether he is a man who can be depended upon to serve their bread and butter interests. They are tired of being "gold-bribe" by professional politicians.

State's Point of View.
Here is an editorial from a rather conservative paper—not a Non-Partisan League or Farmer
Labor paper—which expresses this point of view somewhat more temperately than one often hears it expressed in going about through the Northwest:

"To our notion the most important thing before the people of South Dakota is how they may best impress upon the nation the needs of South Dakota and especially of the farmers. We urge the needs of the farmers, not because they are any better than other American, but because they now need help the most.

"But recently we have seen the Bretwick loan bill slaughtered in the Senate, and the farmers, as a rule, have no reason to believe that the same influences will not kill the McNary-Haugen bill, which is much more 'paternalistic' and more tyrannical.

"In short, the needs of the agricultural Northwest are being ignored and disregarded.

"It seems to be a sectional rather than a party matter. The vote in the State showed that, as a rule,
the affluent East and the prosperous South had no time nor sympathy for understanding for the farmer of the Northwest.

"How can we best make them
'get up and take notice,' in the main problem for South Dakota folks.
"A soft answer may turn away wrath, but we never saw anything worth having that one did not have to fight for.

"And so it comes down to this:
not as a matter of choice, but of necessity, that we must fight for our place under the sun, fight for 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' just as did our forefathers.

"Perhaps we are all wrong, but we cannot see party at all, alongside of the farmers of South Dakota. We do not care a straw for Republican success or Democratic success or third party success. If that success does not mean a square, fairer deal for the farmers who have been suffering from the last four years."

This is from the Aberdeen American, one of the leading journals of the Dakotas.

Republicans Checked Radicals.
For several reasons, the non-partisan movement has not made much headway here as in North Dakota. One reason is the fact that the Republican party has

Man Who Saved 16 Lives Honored.
PARIS, March 24.—Louis Des-camps, octogenarian hero, who recently effected his sixteenth rescue
by saving a woman from the Seine,

has received a gold medal from the Federation of Life Saving Societies of France, and, it is understood, he will receive some mark of distinction from the Government. During the siege of Paris, Descamps repeatedly dived into the Seine under German fire to repair the cable and maintain communication between Fort Valerien and Rouen.

Protecting Your Family's Interests

MOST MEN devote their time and energy to the creation of an estate.

Once an estate is established,
however, the problem is not so much in creating as in conserving. The seriousness of this problem is emphasized
when one considers the large number of estates that have been dissipated through inexperience and mismanagement.

The first step in protecting the interests of one's family is to make a will. Through a carefully prepared and well-

drawn will you can surround
your estate with every safeguard, so that after you are gone, your affairs will be administered according to your wishes and to the best advantage of your heirs.

Our Officers will be glad to explain to you our services in connection with estate matters.

You can obtain interesting information about wills and the conservation of estates by securing a copy of our booklet, "Safeguarding your Family's Future."

Wash out all dust germs

Windy days in town and country mean dust clouds that carry the danger of dust infection to your nose
and throat. Don't wait for that first warning irritation! Pasteurine, the ideal family antiseptic, is a preventive of dust infections.

Pasteurine washes clean the nasal and throat passages and leaves a delightful taste and odor. A large percentage of diseases is directly traceable to dust germs breathed into the system. After your work in the office or at home; after any exercise or sport out-of-doors, use Pasteurine in warm water as a mouth
wash and throat gargle. Spray your nostrils with it.
Keep a bottle at the office, as well as at home, and use Pasteurine daily.

Pasteurine helps relieve colds and prevent infection in cuts and sores. It soothes baby's chafing irri-tations. Pasteurine safeguards the health of all the family.

EXHIBIT WILL SHOW HEAVY TARIFF BURDEN

Democratic National Committee to Impress Upon Women Cause for High Prices.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-22 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—
Through exhibits of clothing and foodstuffs, placarded with tariff tolls on each article, the Democratic National Committee within the next two weeks will attempt to teach women voters what the Fordoney-McCumber tariff law is costing the American housewife, the committee announced today.

Declaring that the tariff will be one of the main political issues of the forthcoming presidential campaign, at least so far as women voters are concerned, the national committee has arranged for exhibits and discussions under the auspices of Democratic women's clubs
in more than 200 towns and cities,
the announcement continues.

Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Missouri, vice chairman of the committee, who is in charge of organizing the women's clubs, said today
regarding the exhibition plan:
"We shall place before American housewives the astounding fact that the Fordney-McCumber tariff costs
the people of this country $4,000,- 000,000 a year in excessive prices on things they buy. Of this sum, only $500,000,000 goes into the United States Treasury as tariff revenue; the other $3,500,000,000 goes into the pockets of specially protected manufacturers."

Consumers' Tribute to Profiters.
"The profiteers get 87 1/2 cents of every dollar—the Government gets only 12 1/2 cents of every dollar the tariff extorts from the consumer."

"The woman who buys a $2 pair of silk stockings pays $1.20 of that sum into the pocket of the tariff barons. On her woolen dress, weighing 3 1/2 pounds, she has paid
a tariff toll of $3.21. On her unlined American kid gloves, for which she paid $4, she has paid
$2 tariff. For each pound of sugar (for which she now is paying 9 cents, an exorbitant price) she includes 2 cents tariff; and on certain creamery butter she pays a tariff of 8 cents a pound. If she buys an aluminum pot, pan or kettle for her kitchen costing $2, she has contributed in the cost price $1.45 to the aluminum trust in tariff toll."

"These facts are perfectly understandable to the American housewife—they explain to her
why the income of $20 per week of prewar days has the purchasing power of only $12 a week today."

Millions to Sugar Barons.
"To the sugar barons alone the American housewife contributed $42,000,000 in tariff last year."

"The fallacy, urged upon working people and farmers, that a high tariff keeps up high wages
and high costs for farm products is clearly shown in the item of sugar—in which the beet grower
and the sugar-field worker both are underpaid, regardless of the high sugar tariff, because the excess price goes into the pockets of the beet sugar trust factory owner.
In the beet sugar industry
thousands of children are employed from the time they toddle into the fields. The Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, after a survey, recently revealed the deprivations endured by these children, with consequent physical, moral and educational handicaps."

"Our Democratic women's clubs,
in holding their information meetings, are asking women to discuss and think over these figures and facts, and then to govern themselves in the forthcoming election in accordance with whether they stand for the party of high tariff
or the party of lower tariff for revenue
only. Only in party organization, as women voters, can women generally influence the repeal of the high tariff and substitute for it a law which will lower the cost of living to them as 'chiefs of the household budget.'"

LID TIGHTENED IN WASHINGTON

Decrease Reported in Violations of Prohibition Act.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—
The national capital's reputation for sobriety, recently under attack from various sources, is upheld in a report to Prohibition Commissioner Haynes made public by H.
M. Luckett, chief of the fourth enforcement division. For the quarter ending March 1, the report showed seizures of 15,176 gallons of various liquors.

"Constant decrease has been noted of violations of the national prohibition act in the city of Washington," Chief Luckett said, adding that "conditions are decidedly better than they were a year ago."
The report said only about 1 per cent of the liquor seized in Washington and Maryland is genuine.
98 per cent being corn whiskey and 9 per cent synthetic gin.

OKLAHOMA BAKER TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mr. F. C. Green, Sapulpa, Okla., on the twenty-seventh of August, wrote:
"I am a baker and have used several kinds of Baking Powder. I have had real success with Jack Frost Baking Powder and can recommend it to all bakers as well as housewives." His financial success day by day depends on uniform output of good baking and he depends on Jack Frost for it. Why

"You Ask About Our Floor"

THIS is a picture of an office with a modern linoleum floor.

At the far end of the office are two men. The owner of the office is telling a visitor why this floor saves him money and is easy to keep good-looking. What he says should interest you.

"You ask," he is saying, "about our linoleum floor. My chief reason for buying a linoleum floor
was that I wanted a quiet office.
I have it, and that alone is enough to make me satisfied. People can walk and chairs can be moved on linoleum without noise."

"I had intended to buy a plain color linoleum.
But when I got in the store this Armstrong's Inlaid Tile
pattern caught my fancy, especially when the merchant suggested that I have it laid with a plain black border."

"Then came the question of laying.
Do you realize that this floor is a permanent floor? It is; it should be here as long as I live, because it is laid for permanency."

"It is cemented down—not directly to the wood underfloor, but over a lining of builders' deadening felt, which is pasted to the wood. The linoleum is cemented to the felt and waterproofed round the edges. See if you can find the seams. They are practically invisible. It looks like one piece."

"About twice a month we wax and polish it. The wax is rubbed in thoroughly by the janitor, who uses an electric floor machine. The waxing cost is very low. We don't have to wash this floor. The janitor sweeps it daily with a hair broom, polishes it quickly when necessary with the floor machine, and I have a quiet, clean,
good-looking floor all the time."

Ring Lardner's Monday Letter

Ring Has Innocent Flirtation
With Gal 55
Years on Way
to Asheville.

Amazing Umbrella Incident
Startles
Great Neck
Sage.

Dear Editor:
THIS article deals with a few incidents in regards to my little trip from Long Island to Asheville which I am informed my readers is in a fever to hear about some.

Well in the 1st place I visited the office of the Southern R. R. in N. Y. city and told them where I wanted to go and the man says I would better buy a All Year Ticket and I says do you mean it takes all year to get to Asheville. He laughed heartily and exclaimed that a All Year Ticket was just a round trip ticket which you get it cheaper and come back any time you want to within the year. So he fixed me up with a A. Y. ticket and I left Great Neck at 10:55 A. M. one morning which is suppose to reach N. Y. city at 11:35 which would give me over a hour and a 1/2 in N. Y. city to have lunch with a friend of mine before the Asheville train left at 1:10 P. M.

But just as we left Flushing they opened up the bridge to leave some barges go through them and we laid there a hour and a 1/2 while they tried to close the bridge again and finally reached N. Y. at 1:05 1/2 so as I had to run like a deer to get on the board of the train for Asheville. It seems like the Long Island R. R. have only been having trouble with that bridge for 10 years so they figure that whatever is out of order is just temporary and will rectify itself if you give it time.

Kiwanis Boys Get Their Wish.
Well they was a gal about 55 years of age settling across the isle from me in the Pullman and she kept looking in my direction but my folks had warned me vs. these here train flirtations so I did not encourage her but devoted the afternoon to silent prayer and looking out the window at the scenic wonders of the 4 states which lays between N. Y. city and what some was aptly nicknamed the nation's capital.

Along about 7 P. M. we stopped in Washington for oil and then continued southwards arriving early in the A. M. at Salisbury, N. C. which is where the Asheville branch leaves the main line. North Carolina is a great tobacco raising country and many of the towns is named after cigarettes. A little while later we passed through Nabo and Asheville itself is said to be derived its subsequent from a inveterate smoker.

As I set down to breakfast the chairman of the dining car gave me free of charge a copy of the Charlotte Observer which it says they would give bibles to new subscribers and it struck me that in all the time I been in N. Y. I never heard of a N. Y. paper trying to get new subscribers by offering them bibles. Maybe they are afraid their presses could not cope with the increased circulation.

After a while we come to a town called Newton and they was a sign on the fence which says "Kiwanis Club of Newton Wants a Station in Keeping with the Town" so I kind of looked over the station and the town both and it seemed to me like the Kiwanis boys had got their wish.

Heard Unusual Story.
By this time we had began to climb straight up into the Blue Ridges and the scenery was getting so good that I wanted to devote all my tension to same but the little gal across the isle finely could not contain herself no longer so she pointed to an umbrella which the porter had placed in my section by mistake and she said me was that my umbrella.

She knowed very well it was not my umbrella because it was her umbrella and besides which I do not look like the kind that goes around the country totting a umbrella. But any way I says no is it yours and she says I think maybe it is so I give it to her and by way of thanks she told me a very interesting incident in connections with its career.

It seems like one winter she was down in Florida and she was going to take the boat from Jacksonville back to N. Y. and she was riding on a street car to the wharf in Jacksonville and when she got off of the street car she forgot her umbrella. Well she did not miss it till she got on the boat and she felt kind of bad as it was a high class umbrella and on more than one occasion had saved her from drowning ha ha ha.

Well the boat stopped at Charleston and her and several other passengers got off and it was raining and she made the remark to another gal that she had left her umbrella on a street car in Jacksonville and the other gal says why they's a lady right on our boat that told me about finding a umbrella on a street car in Jacksonville just before she got on the boat and I will see that you two gets together. So she introduced the two of them and sure enough it was her umbrella.

What's in a Name?
So I thought to myself that is a very hair raising story but it would of been a whole lot hotter if the umbrella which the lady found had of turned out to not be my gal's umbrella after all.

The friendship between this lady and I broke off as we entered Asheville station before either or both had their heart seared. I climb in a costly motor and was whisked out to the Grove Park Inn which the management with becoming modesty states is the finest resort hotel in the world. Well I ain't been to all of them and maybe they are right, still all Asheville is in Buncombe county, but any way I will devote next week's article to the Inn and the line forms on the left for those that ain't interested in reading same.

Meanwhile I been enjoying southern hospitality and also been interviewed by Mr. Holloway of the Asheville Citizen, a newspaper dedicated to the upbuilding of western North Carolina which if they build it up much more it will make Pike's Peak look like a divot.

SPRING.
THE first day of spring was a hummer.
The streets were all covered with snow.
Oh, when will we ever have summer.
Oh, when will old Boreas go?
We're tired of hauling out ashes
Through snow that comes up to our knees:
We long to throw open the sashes
And let in a fresh summer breeze.

We're tired of watching our money
Go up into smoke in the flue:
We long for the days that are sunny
And violets covered with dew.
We're tired to death of this weather.
It gives us the blues and the dumps:
We long to go out on the heather
And throw a few bricks at the umps.

But money makes the mare go
And jazes up the radio.

HIGH RIDGE.
I DO not care for Springfield, Ill., Nor that old town called Louisville.
Nor even St. Louis—just let me go To spend my days in High Ridge, Mo.

There is no coal smoke there I'm sure.
And every breath of air is pure.
Tis a Paradise on earth—oh joy!
That little burg on the old Gravois.

SEVERAL WITH
IN BEER INQUIRY
TO HAVE DIS

Some Persons Whose Testimony Is Desired Can't Be Found, Dyott Says—Liquor Charges Against Them Had Been Dismissed, but May Be Reinstated.

BENCH WARRANTS TO BE ISSUED

Federal Grand Jury Begins Investigation Into Charges of "Protection" for Sale of Brewery Product.

John C. Dyott, Special Assistant Attorney-General in charge of liquor prosecutions, said today, at the opening of the Federal grand jury's inquiry into the "protected" beer scandal, that several witnesses sought for this inquiry had disappeared.

Some of these, he indicated, are persons who have been accused of violations of the prohibition law. He said the witnesses now missing were persons against whom cases had been pending, but had not been produced. In case they fail to appear to testify, Dyott said the cases may be reinstated, and they may be arrested and brought in.

One man, whom he sought to summon through the marshal's office, was said to have gone to California. Dyott said: "But my information indicates that he went in the opposite direction."

Two men, one a city official and the other a brewery employee, are expected to be questioned about a report that they made a hasty automobile trip to Washington, Mo., a few months ago, to intercept a State official who was on a train going from St. Louis to Jefferson City. The report is that the State official was paid $50 to return to St. Louis to make it certain that "protected" beer could leave the Grinnell brewery the following day without interference.

List Not Made Public.
The list of witnesses summoned for the grand jury's inquiry has not been made public, and while the names of some, and while the witnesses are known, the question has been raised whether publication of the names of witnesses is a Federal grand jury inquiry is permissible. Judge Farris is considering this point.

The grand jury investigation is based in part on a confession made to government agents by Raymond B. Grinnell, vice president and general manager of Grinnell Bros. Brewery to the effect that he had paid about $15,000 protection money to Charles S. Prather of Advance, State Food and Drug Commissioner, and that his company had been permitted to molest to make and sell real beer during the period of those payments.

The confession was published exclusively in the Post-Dispatch March 9. Prather gave his resignation to Gov. Hyde at Jefferson City the same day, but denied any guilt.

The confession of Grinnell followed his arrest in the raid made at the brewery Feb. 21 by Gus O. Nations, Missouri chief of field forces, prohibition enforcement division, an hour or so before members of the intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Department, brought here to investigate the enforcement of the prohibition law, had intended to seize the place. Nations later declared that his brother, State Labor Commissioner Heber Nations, was one of two State officials being investigated by the intelligence officers.

Judge Farris, in directing the grand jury yesterday to make the inquiry, said he knew of the matter only from reading the newspapers. He said it had been intimated broadly that there was a conspiracy to protect violators of the Volstead act, and he commented that such a conspiracy would probably be carried on by working in the dark, and that for this reason only circumstantial evidence might be available. He called special attention to the gravity of the charges.
